A Visit to Klindt Farm

THE SPOOKY SEASON!

This year at Grand Haven, we tried something new—inviting kids from the community to trick-or-treat indoors, going door-to-door through our halls. It gave the children a safe, warm place to celebrate, and brought our residents the joy of handing out candy once again. We're proud to share that nearly 200 kids joined the fun!

From the Desk of Happy Dan

October was full of connection, laughter, and crisp fall moments here at Grand Haven—a reminder of just how special our community truly is.

A highlight was our visit to Klindt Farm. The golden fields, fresh air, and open skies made for a beautiful day. Some residents even rode in the combine during corn harvest—an experience that sparked many fond memories. It was such a peaceful outing, and we're already planning to return next year.

Of course, October wouldn't be complete without Halloween! On the 30th, we welcomed about 200 kids from the Eldridge community. Our halls were filled with little ghosts, superheroes, and princesses as residents handed out candy with big smiles and warm hearts.

Then on Halloween Day, students from Neil Armstrong Elementary stopped by for trick-or-treating and fun. Their energy lit up the building, and the joy shared between generations was truly heartwarming.

October reminded us how powerful community can be—when generations come together, memories are made.

Until next month,
Happy Dan
